The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) plans to re-propose produced water effluent limits in response to the recent Ninth Circuit Court decision granting our request for a partial voluntary remand of the less stringent limits. The attached draft fact sheet explains EPA's rationale for this proposed action.

EPA would like to offer the Cook Inlet area Tribes the opportunity to review and comment on our draft fact sheet and preliminary draft permit re-proposal, prior to the public review period. I would appreciate your comments by Friday, January 14, 2011.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.
